

Differentiation CDP/CDP+

The CDP was introduced in 2005 and was designed to handle all known communications types at that time.

The new CDP+ hardware enables new possibilities and functionality not available to the CDP due to hardware limitations. As the development of vehicle electronic systems and communication standards evolves so do Autocom products.

The list below display the difference between the diagnostic functionalities in the CDP and the CDP+ allowing professional workshops to service and repair more vehicles. These diagnostic differences provide arguments to why customers need to upgrade from the CDP to the new CDP+.
